Immigration law can be complicated, time sensitive, and stressful. You must not take risks with something as important as your immigration status – or that of your family, the right to remain and work in this country, or your personal liberty. The best way to make sure that your matter will be handled properly is to speak with an Immigration Attorney. Let the lawyers at The Law Offices of Greg Prosmushkin, P.C. review your case and provide you with legal advice. Schedule a free consultation today.

The visa application process can be complex and time-consuming. We can assist you and advise you through the process. If you are interested in visiting the United States, or are already present in this country and wish to extend your visa, you should seek guidance from an immigration lawyer.

The L-1 visa is a nonimmigrant visa which allows foreign nationals being transferred by their current employer to enter into the U.S. to manage an organization or a major function or division of any related organization.

The L-1 intra-company transferee visa is available to employees of international companies who are being transferred to a parent, branch, affiliate or subsidiary in the U.S.
